

By starting high, the car has the energy it needs to move. This is called potential energy.

As the car drops, the potential energy changes to kinetic energy. This energy comes from the ride's drop. It also comes from the pull of gravity. It's what makes the ride fast.

TAKE A LOOK!

